

Robert Parker's

Wine Advocate

NEAL MARTIN | APRIL, 2015

"We had such standout examples that we had a rare opportunity to make single sub-AVA bottlings," explained proprietor Tony Soter.

"The Planet Oregon Pinot Noir serves as a great introduction to Oregon Pinot Noir, for just two ten dollar bills, by doing nothing more than being a delicious, straightforward, easy-drinking Pinot Noir. At the other end of the spectrum are the North Valley, Ribbon Ridge and Yamhill-Carlton Pinot Noirs 2012 that represent some of the best examples I encountered during my time in Oregon, notwithstanding a price that is hard to beat. The Mineral Springs Ranch White Label 2012 was a brilliant example of the grape variety; the 30% whole-cluster fruit imparting freshness, the 50% new oak barely noticeable and remarkably well interwoven by James Cahill. At just under $100 per bottle, it ain't cheap, but it is a stunning, world-class Pinot Noir that has the substance and balance to age well."

--Neal Martin, Wine Advocate

93
POINTS

2012 SOTER VINEYARDS
Mineral Springs White Label Pinot Noir

92
POINTS

2012 SOTER VINEYARDS
Mineral Springs Ranch Pinot Noir

93
POINTS

2012 NORTH VALLEY
Yamhill-Carlton Pinot Noir

92
POINTS

2012 NORTH VALLEY
Eola-Amity Hills Pinot Noir

92
POINTS

2012 NORTH VALLEY
Dundee Hills Pinot Noir

91
POINTS

2012 NORTH VALLEY
Ribbon Ridge Pinot Noir

91
POINTS

2012 NORTH VALLEY
Reserve Pinot Noir

91
POINTS

2012 NORTH VALLEY
Reserve Chardonnay

90
POINTS

2012 NORTH VALLEY
Pinot Noir